

MK I, I, there were two old people -, aye, two old people living together and they wanted blankets washed. And they wouldn't put the blankets on the line and they asked me to trim a hedge. So one of the ladies went down for the, uh, ladder. And she brought me up this ladder. But I didn't know it was rotten but it was rotten. And I got up on it and - the ladder went down on me. And I didn't fall. People thinks I fell but I didn't fall. The ladder went down on me and broke my leg. And I was there and, uh, the foot turned this road. It was just hanging off. It was turned that road. And I got my other foot and got it (the thing it) and, and there's the way I went to the hospital with it. With it, it over on the other foot.
