Chair 1 will do the normal chairing duties during a talk session (announcing the speaker and keeping time and selecting questions) – chairs will turn on their microphones to announce that a speaker has 5 minutes left to speak and then 1 minute left to speak, and then to announce that time it up; to ask questions, people will be able to either raise their virtual hand in Zoom (in many versions of Zoom 'raise hand' can be found in 'Reactions' at the bottom of the screen) or to type a question in the chat, and the chair selects which questions will be asked.

Chair 2 will be there to help if help is needed – to confer with Chair 1 if there are problems, for example – and to monitor the session (to mute people if needs be, or to remove anyone from the session if they behave inappropriately).

The chairs during the poster sessions will play the poster-videos at the start of the session and then announce the breakout rooms for the poster discussions.

Please make sure that you have the latest version of Zoom – if not, do please update your version of Zoom before the confernce. You will need the latest version in order to move between breakout rooms during the talk and poster sessions (see the 28mfm Zoom guidance on the 28mfm website for information about this).

NB: if Zoom crashes completely, go to the 28mfm Discord site – we will post updates in the 'general queries' channel.

Don't forget about Discord: you can find presenters slides, handouts and posters there, you can post questions for presenters there (for example, if you didn't get to ask a question during a talk or a poster session), and you can post any general queries about the conference there.
